Did you know: The Old Testament does not prohibit homosexuality as we see it today. Dont believe it The Torah never forbids homosexuality when examining original language and historical context; the Hebrew word Toevah does not in fact mean abomination but rather ritualistic uncleanness; and Sodom and Gomorrah had nothing whatsoever to do with homosexuality, but rather with arrogance, idolatry, and a societys blood-thirst for violence. Likewise, all verses in both the Old and New Testaments referring to these two cities consistently state the same. . . without ever linking homosexuality in any way whatsoever. The Old Testament speaks of a homosexual affair. The story of David and Jonathan describes this in detail in I Samuel, and climaxes with David saying of Jonathan: Your love to me was more wonderful than the love of women in II Samuel 1: 26. . . the chosen Hebrew word for love used herein - ahabah - referring almost exclusively to a romantic form of love throughout the Bible. Christ said that some people were meant to be born gay. Cant believe it Matthew 19: 12 - an important verse that many often miss, ignore, or simply misunderstand - quotes Christ clearly stating that there are eunuchs who were born that way from their mothers womb. He goes on to give three definitions of what a eunuch is, including the above. Furthermore, the Greek word eunochos was historically used to include homosexual people, and Christs listeners knew it. Christ seems to have blessed a gay relationship between a Roman Centurion and his lover. In the Gospels of both Matthew and Luke, a Centurion humbly asks...
