Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Little Grey Sheep: A Novel The hour was four in the afternoon, the month November, so there was hardly any light in the long gallery except close to the window-panes. Snow had fallen during the day, and the Wolds were wrapped in the grey-white veil which they would wear all night. There were lights, and footsteps, and a certain grim excitement, in a bedroom at one end of the gallery; an old woman lay dying there, and, being old, she died unwillingly. Her maid was sure of a good legacy; her doctor and nurse were tired out with her selfishness; and the fourth watcher, her son, was a middle-aged man, swallowed up in his own affairs and ambitions. So there were no broken hearts around the dying woman, but at least there was plenty of apparent interest, the living having still each others criticism to dread. Nobody had remembered the children, two little boys who were sitting close together in the dark gallery. They had climbed into a window-seat near one end of it,...
